Why care about care?

• Economic prosperity
• Family economic well-being
• Equity and justice

To name a few of the many reasons...
The Care Challenge - By the Numbers

- Child care can cost families over $20,000 per child per year.
- Caregivers who care for adult family members lose $300,000 over a lifetime.
- Workers and their families lose an estimated combined $22.5 billion in wages each year due to a lack of paid family and medical leave.
- Nearly one in five home care and direct care workers live in poverty.
The Care Challenge and the Pandemic

- Today there are 1.5 million fewer mothers in the workforce than before the pandemic.
- Black, Latinx, and Indigenous women in particular are feeling the multiple effects of:
  - being more likely to have lost their job
  - being on the front lines as essential workers
  - having to solve care challenges on their own
- Nearly one-third of U.S. coronavirus deaths have been linked to nursing homes.
December 10, 1971

Nixon expressed concern about “the vast moral authority of the national Government to the side of communal approaches to childrearing over against the family-centered approach.” and said the child care legislation had “family-weakening implications.”

March 2021

Rep. Charlie Shepherd (R-ID State House): “I don’t think anybody does a better job than mothers in the home, and any bill that makes it easier or more convenient for mothers to come out of the home and let others raise their child, I don’t think that’s a good direction for us to be going.”
A Gender and Racial Equity Issue

- The majority of caregivers - family and professional - are women.
- Disproportionately Black, Latinx, Asian, and immigrant.

75%

When caregivers reach retirement age, non-White households average $30,000 in savings while White households average $120,000.
An Intergenerational Issue

- 33.6 million families have children under age 18
- 10,000 baby boomers that turn 65 each day and will eventually require long term care
- 61 million adults with disabilities, injury or illness need care
- 5.7 million care workers
- 53 million family caregivers
- 25 % part of the sandwich generation
