Erin Currier, Program Officer, Family Economic Security, W.K. Kellogg Foundation

As a member of the Family Economic Security team, Erin is responsible for identifying and nurturing opportunities for affecting positive systemic change within communities, and executing programming efforts that align with the foundation's strategic plan. She and the team advance grantmaking designed to further workforce mobility and financial stability for low-income families. She works closely with staff across the foundation to ensure integration and coordination of efforts; maintains strong relationships with grantees, grantseekers and partners; and provides leadership and oversight for on-the-ground execution of foundation investments.

Prior to joining the foundation, Erin served as director of the Financial Security and Mobility Project with The Pew Charitable Trusts in Washington, D.C. In this role, Erin was responsible for supervising and managing all aspects of the $5 million project, spearheading fundraising, and leading a targeted national communications strategy to amplify the program, serving as a spokesperson. She cultivated and maintained partnerships with diverse stakeholders, as seen by her work to build the first-ever bipartisan Economic Mobility Caucus in the United States Senate.

Prior to this, Erin served as acting CEO with Women Work! The National Network for Women's Employment. In this role, she was responsible for oversight of the organization's operating budget and finances, program and policy agenda, and fundraising efforts. She developed and implemented special grant projects within the national office and in coordination with state and local members with the purpose of delivering education and job training to low-income women. Erin has also served as public relations and outreach lead with Science Applications International Corporation and technical writer/program analyst at the Federal Aviation Administration with Subsystem Technologies, Inc., both in Washington, DC.

Erin has served as a volunteer board member with Survivors and Advocates for Empowerment and the Domestic Violence Legal Empowerment and Appeals Project, both in Washington, D.C.

Erin holds a master’s degree in public policy and women’s studies from George Washington University in Washington, D.C. and a bachelor’s degree in English and sociology from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

Camille Emeagwali, Senior Vice President of Programs & Strategic Learning, The New York Women’s Foundation

Camille A. Emeagwali is Senior Vice President of Programs & Strategic Learning at The New York Women's Foundation where she leads programmatic strategy, strategic learning, and impact positioning of The Foundation's thought leadership. Camille also oversees The Foundation's strategic grantmaking focused on advancing gender, racial, and economic justice in NYC and beyond.

Prior to The Foundation, Camille was the Director of Capacity Building at Harm Reduction Coalition, where she oversaw the National Training Institute, the HIV Prevention Capacity Building Initiative, and the CBA for Syringe Access Community Mobilization Program. Camille has 20 years of experience in the nonprofit sector providing technical assistance, consultation, and skills-building training to nonprofit organizations in the areas of organizational development and program sustainability.
Camille, a daughter of Jamaican immigrants and a native of Queens, NY, is committed to supporting the work of bold, dynamic leaders and organizations that are positively impacting the lives of Black women, immigrant women, and women of color. Camille has a Master’s degree in Nonprofit Management from the Milano School of Policy, Management and Environment at The New School and a B.A. in Government and Politics from University of Maryland, College Park.

Denise Miles, Senior Vice President, Social Impact & Sustainability, Wells Fargo & Company

Denise Miles is a Senior Vice President with Wells Fargo’s Social Impact & Sustainability team. She is a Senior Community Relations Consultant in Philanthropy responsible for overseeing grant making and team member engagement in the Bay Area. Denise has been with Wells Fargo since 2004 and assumed her current role in March 2018.

Previously Denise worked in the company’s Diversity & Inclusion and Strategic Philanthropy where she led strategy and programs for a select portfolio of national nonprofit organizations focused on advocacy and civil rights and small business. She also was a Community Development Officer in the San Francisco Bay Area, responsible for managing economic development and affordable housing programs. Denise began her career at the company in Corporate Communications.

Prior to joining Wells Fargo, Denise worked for the City and County of San Francisco in Mayor Willie L. Brown's Office of Neighborhood Services where she served as the Community Liaison for several city districts and the Filipino community.

Denise started her career in television news working as a news producer for CBS affiliate KTVN in Reno, NV, followed by an Assignment Editor at KTVU Fox 2 in the San Francisco Bay Area. She has also freelanced for Fox News Network and Fox Sports Network.

Denise holds a B.A. in Political Science with a minor in Journalism from San Jose State University and is a public notary. She has received several awards including Silicon Valley Business Journal’s Women of Influence for 2019, National Urban League’s Donald H. McGannon Award and the Pacific Asian American Women Bay Area Coalition’s Emerging Leaders Award. Denise was also named one of the 100 Most Influential Filipina Women in the U.S. by the Filipina Women’s Network.

Denise is a former board member for the Boys & Girls Clubs of Oakland and Women In Sports and Events (WISE) San Francisco Bay Area chapter. She is a past graduate of Emerge America and Leadership California. Denise and her husband currently reside in the East Bay. She enjoys baking along with sewing and designing dresses she wears to work and events.