

Show Me the Money! Where is capital going and how does the answer influence your grant making?

October 6, 2021

Mike Eggleston
Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis

Mike is a Senior Community Development Advisor for the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis. As an experienced community economic development professional with expertise in finance, data visualization, and policy analysis, Mike is passionate about increasing economic opportunity for people with low income. He is a member of the Board of Directors for the Incarnate Word Foundation, a member of the Finance Advisory Board for the Sisters of the Good Shepherd, and a member of the Advisory Board for the St. Louis CDFI Coalition. Mike holds a bachelor's degree in business from Indiana University–Bloomington and a master's in public policy administration from the University of Missouri–St. Louis

Trisha Finnegan
Community Foundation of Louisville

In concert with partners, grantees, and donors, Trisha leads meaningful local change as the Senior Vice President & Chief Strategy Officer at the Community Foundation of Louisville. Through innovation and strong relationships, Trisha has elevated the foundation's community engagement, investment, and impact over the past 6 years.

Prior to joining the Community Foundation, Trisha built 15 years of multi-functional experience across a social venture, a nonprofit, and two Fortune 100 corporations. A Louisville-native, Trisha holds a B.S. in Business and Organizational Behavior from Miami University in Oxford, OH, where she graduated magna cum laude, and completed a graduate certificate in Design Thinking & Innovation through University of Virginia's Darden School. She is currently a Fulcrum Fellow through the Center for Community Investment.

Committed to making meaningful contributions in partnership with others, Trisha currently serves on the boards of Community Foundations of Canada and Dendri Fund; which add to her previous service with the Greater Louisville Project, Louisville Urban League, Awesome Foundation, and numerous local and regional business competitions.

Sara Miller
Hope Policy Institute

Sara Miller, Policy Analyst of Hope Policy Institute, has been at HOPE since 2006 when the Policy Institute was founded. During her tenure at HOPE she has also served as Vice President for Community and Economic Development.

Prior to joining Hope, Sara was a staff evaluator for the Performance Evaluation and Expenditure Review Committee of the Mississippi Legislature. Sara has a Master of Public Administration degree from George Washington University in Washington D.C. where she also worked at the US Health Resources and Services Administration. She completed her undergraduate degree in Liberal Arts with a concentration in Women and Gender Studies at Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Daffney Moore
St. Louis Development Corporation

Daffney Moore is the Chief of Staff and Chief Opportunity Zone Officer with the St. Louis Development Corporation and works to position the city as a leader in utilizing Opportunity Zone investments to support equitable economic development with neighborhood-scaled projects that have a positive impact on residents of Opportunity Zone communities. Moore is an Associate Fellow in Urban Governance for NewCities, a global nonprofit focused on the well-being of cities. She is the former City Manager of East St. Louis. As City Manager, Moore worked to reduce the city's budget deficit, restructure day-to-day operations, bring credibility to the city, complete three audits, reduced contracts by $1.5 million, and secured five Opportunity Zones to encourage long-term investment and create jobs in low-income areas. She is the former City Administrator for the City of Dellwood, Missouri where she had general superintending control of the administration and management of the government, businesses, officers, and employees of the city. Ms. Moore led the ongoing recovery efforts after the Ferguson, Missouri civil unrest and achieved great success in revitalizing the corner of West Florissant & Chambers and areas along the West Florissant Avenue Corridor.

Ms. Moore is an Adjunct Instructor at Harris-Stowe State University. She previously worked as the Economic Development Director for the City of Berkeley. Before working for Berkeley, she served as an Urban Planner with the City of St. Louis Planning and Urban Design Agency. She worked on projects that address problems dealing with urban growth, revitalization, housing, and commercial development to address social and economic issues in minority communities. Ms. Moore has helped to bring two major mixed-use, mixed-income development projects to realization in St. Louis; Arlington Grove and North Sarah. Also, she worked with the City of St. Louis on the Promise Zone Implementation, Rockefeller Foundation 100 Resilient Cities and Dr. Martin Luther King Boulevard redevelopment, as well as the Lansdowne Initiative and Our Town grant in East St. Louis.

Ms. Moore continuously strives to "open doors" for the disenfranchised and underrepresented communities through volunteerism and advocacy. She is an active leader through her civic commitment, leadership, and dedication to improving the quality of life for underserved communities throughout the St. Louis Region. She gives back to the community through her involvement with the Locust Central Special Business District Board, National Coalition of 100 Black Women (NCBW), American Planning Association, Crisis Nursery Advisory Board, Community Forward Inc, Urban League, Myrtle Hilliard Community Advisory Board, Murray State University Governor's Board, President of the Black Alumni at Murray State University, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority Inc., Consortium for Leadership Development and New Life Community Church.

Her accomplishments to date include: 2019 – Power 100 Delux Magazine; Invited to attend the White House Opportunity Zone Conference; 2018 – Selected to participate in the NewCities Global Nonprofit Learning Expedition on New Urban Champions Initiative; 2018 – YWCA Women Leader of Distinction Award; 2017 – 95.5 The Lou Phenomenal Woman Award; 2016 – Missouri State University Panelist on Shattering the Silences; 2016 – Women's Voices Raised for Social Justice Program Presenter; 2015 -APA Dwight F. Davis Award Outstanding Planning Advocate; 2015 - Washington University Panelist called Focus: Ferguson & St. Louis Region; 2013 - USC Lusk Center Ross Minority Program in Real Estate; 2013 – NCNW Gateway Metropolitan Legacy Award Honoree; 2012-2013 – Consortium for Leadership Development; 2008-2012 – President of the National Coalition of 100 Black Women – Metropolitan St. Louis Chapter; 2012 – Black Women Who Rock Honoree; 2012 – NCBW Mother's Day Brunch Speaker; 2011- Marines Key Leaders Workshop; 2010-Keynote speaker for African-American Alumni Homecoming Banquet at Murray State University; 2010 - Recipient of the Unsung Heroine Award from the Top Ladies of Distinction St. Louis Chapter; 2008 - Invited to the White House to hear the President's remarks on volunteering; 2005 - Nominated by her peers to participate in the nationally recognized Coro Women in Leadership Program; 2004 - Recognized by President Bush for her volunteerism with Connections to Success; and awarded both the Improving the Quality of Life Award for community service and the Department of Urban and Regional Planning Alumni Award by Jackson State University.